

RELIGION AND CLIMATE CHANGE IN CROSS -REGIONAL PERSPECTIVE

Archdiocese of Newark, Catholic University of America, Georgetown University, St. John's College, University of Liberia, and the Center for Global Change Studies
May 11, 2018

WORKSHOP AGENDA

May 10: 6:30pm Dinner for Workshop Participants

We have made reservations for workshop participants at Casolare, in the Kimptom Glover Park Hotel, where you will be staying. We will rendezvous there at 6:30pm.

May 11: 8:15am Depart Hotel(Shuttle Service Provided)

11:15am-11:30am Break

11:30pm-12:45pm Session 3: Landscapes, Mountains and Ontologies of the Sacred

Topic: Consideration of a cluster of ~~chaps~~ ~~from the~~ Indian Himalayas (Drew) and Peruvian Andes (Bacigalupo, Salas Carreño), which differently engage relationships between mountains (and glaciers) and/or sacred landscapes, the ~~homan~~ human, and collective identity, in the response to climate change.

Rob Albro and Amanda Bertana lead the discussion

12:45pm-2:00pm Catered Lunch

To be served in our meeting room.

 2To4ygTd (4)